Brightcart Customer Policies — Coupons & Discounts

Types of Coupons

Every Brightcart coupon has a code, an expiry date (valid till), and exactly one discount type:

- Percentage-discount coupons — a fixed percentage off your order or eligible items (e.g., 10% off).
- Fixed-amount coupons — a flat rupee amount off your order (e.g., ₹200 off), commonly issued as store credit for refunds.

A single coupon will only ever carry one discount type — never both.

How to Apply a Coupon

- 1 Add items to your cart and proceed to checkout.
- 2 On the payment page, enter your coupon code in the Apply Coupon field, or select one from your list of available coupons.
- 3 The discount is applied instantly to your order total, before payment.

One Coupon Per Order

- Only one coupon can be applied per order — coupons cannot be stacked or combined, even if you hold multiple valid coupons.
- If you have more than one valid coupon, you'll choose which one to apply; the rest stay saved in your account for future orders.

Coupon Expiry

- Every coupon has a valid_till date, shown in the coupon details.
- Coupons cannot be applied after their expiry date, even if the order was added to your cart earlier.
- Expired coupons are automatically removed from your active coupons list and cannot be reactivated or extended.

Refund-Issued Coupons vs. Promotional Coupons

Refund-issued (store credit) coupons

- Issued as a fixed-amount coupon when you choose store credit as your refund method.
- Valid for 90 days from the date of issue.
- Applicable across any product or category, with no minimum order value.

Promotional coupons

- Issued by Brightcart during sales, festive offers, or as welcome/loyalty rewards.
- Usually carry a percentage discount, and may include conditions such as:
- Minimum order value
- Applicable categories only (e.g., valid only on Electronics or Gaming)
- Maximum discount cap (e.g., 20% off, up to ■500)
- Terms specific to each promotional coupon are listed on the offer page and in the coupon details screen.

General Rules

- Coupons are non-transferable and tied to the account they were issued to.
- Coupons cannot be redeemed for cash, and a percentage-discount coupon cannot be converted to store credit.
- If an order using a coupon is later cancelled or returned, coupon handling follows the Order Cancellation Policy and Refund Policy — generally, unused or eligible coupons are reinstated to your account.
- Brightcart reserves the right to cancel orders or revoke coupons in cases of suspected misuse, such as duplicate accounts or unauthorized code sharing.

For issues applying a coupon, first check the code's expiry date and any category restrictions, or contact support for help.
